As a subscriber to satellite radio I am concerned regarding the position of the NAB. As an American citizen I highly regard my choice to listen or view broadcasting as it becomes available regardless of the technology used. I am strongly opposed to the position the NAB has taken. Changes and advances in technology do nothing more than level the playing field in many areas of our great economy. This, I feel creates the need to evaluate and consider improving the means by which these kinds of services are offered to the public.

Sincerely,
Carl Grossi
